

Comprehensive security systems upgrade

Background

Metelec, the most prominent copper manufacturer in the UK, have a well-earned reputation for providing customers an unparalleled range of premium metal products and providing industry leading service. Clearway had previously installed a standard alarm system which was triggered one evening. Despite the alarm's activation, the intruders forced entry by ramraiding the main entrance and then proceeded to empty the site of all stock, resulting in substantial financial loss. The client recognised the need to enhance their current security measures, to protect both their workforce, their inventory, and to prevent any future breaches, and so reached out to Clearway for expert recommendations.

Solution

Based on our advice, a custom upgraded package was created which encompassed all the standard security systems with remote monitoring such as alarms, entry doors, CCTV cameras, perimeter fencing and railings. We also identified the need for enhanced security solutions, which included automatic anti ramraid gates and bollards and a 10m sliding gate, that necessitated considerable preparation of the land prior to installation.

Key Services

-  Access control
-  CCTV
-  24/7/365 Remote monitoring
-  Gates and bollards
-  Perimeter fencing and railings
-  Automated, sliding security gate
-  Intruder Alarm

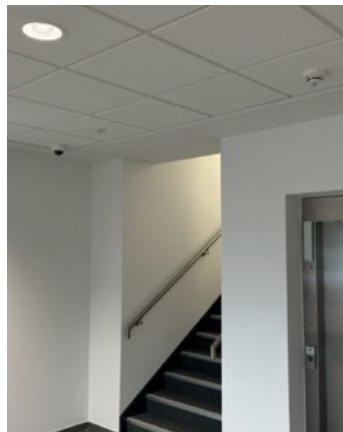

The client recognised the need to enhance their current security measures, to protect both their workforce, their inventory, and to prevent any future breaches,

Outcome

The client's security needs were always our top priority, and with the installation of all of the above and the added peace of mind of remote monitoring, we were confident this has been achieved to the highest standard.

The client is now satisfied they have a site that is protected 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, with the assurance that any intrusions will be actioned swiftly by monitoring operatives at our NSI Gold Cat II Alarm Receiving Centre (ARC). The client was so impressed with our professional service they treated the installation team to lunch offsite as a token of appreciation.

Following an assessment of their site, Metelec's insurance provider confirmed that the systems and gates installed exceeded their expectations and resulted in a reduction in Metelec's insurance premium.
